DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's amendments and arguments filed 4/3/06 have been fully considered. The Examiner notes applicant's request for interview, however, it is moot because applicant has already submitted a formal response wherein the amendments and declaration have overcome all previous rejections. Additionally, supplemental amendments are no longer a matter of right.

The objection to the specification for failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter has been withdrawn. Applicant's amendment adding the terminology "prosthesis" to claims 35 and 39 helped clarify the scope of the terminology.

The declaration filed on 4/3/06 under 37 CFR 1.131 is sufficient to overcome the Graf (WO 02/00141) reference.

Regarding the rejection in view of Donner, applicant amendments to independent claims 35 and 39 to include the terminology "prosthesis" overcame said rejection.

Applicant's amendment to claim 1 overcame the rejection in view of Gray, III.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 35-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Germany (DE 9312150, applicant submitted).

Claims 1-13 and 35-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Graf (US 2003/0153912).

Referring to all figures, specifically figure 4, Graf teaches a prosthetic joint for replacement of a natural joint to resist dislocation, the prosthetic joint comprising:

a liner 22' including an internal concave portion defining an internal concave diameter, and defining an opening having a passage width smaller than said internal concave diameter;

a ball portion 4 having a ball diameter substantially equal to said internal concave diameter, and a constraining ring 10' cooperating with said opening, wherein said ball portion includes an equator 6 having an equator diameter similar to said passage width and smaller than said ball diameter;

wherein said ball portion is adapted to be implanted into said internal concave portion during an operative procedure.

All other claim limitations are self-evident.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-13 and 35-50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Noiles (4,978,356) in view of Germany (DE 9312150, applicant submitted).

Referring to at least figures 26-30, Noiles teaches a prosthetic joint for replacement of a natural joint to resist dislocation comprising:

a liner 12 including an internal concave portion defining an internal concave diameter, and defining an opening having a passage width smaller than said internal concave diameter;

a ball portion having a ball diameter substantially equal to said internal concave diameter, and a constraining ring 120 cooperating with said opening,

However, Noiles is silent regarding said ball portion having a cylindrical equator having a diameter to said passage width.

Germany teaches a similar prosthetic joint for replacement of a natural joint to resist dislocation comprising ball 14 having a cylindrical equator 18. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have utilized the teachings of Germany wherein the ball has a cylindrical equator with the ball of Noiles such that the liner, cup, and retaining ring could be pre-assembled when found desirable by the surgeon and the ball could easily enter the opening passage in an un-anatomical position and lock in an anatomical position within the liner.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
